BANK SEEKING TO RECOVER $2,692 CHECK

WAS GIVEN BY MRS. JULIA
COMSTOCK ON DEFUNCT
CHEBANSE BANK

DELAY WAS COSTLY

Bank Closed While Check Is Enroute Through Chicago
Clearing Houses

Judge A. W. DeSelm today took under advisement the suit brought by the City National bank to compel Mrs. Julia Comstock to reimburse the bank for a check for $2,692. The check had been given by Mrs. Comstock to the bank on Feb. 28, 1929, in payment for a note. The check was drawn on the defunct Chebanse State bank which was closed by the state on March 10 of the same year.

The local bank did not send the check direct to the Chebanse bank for payment, but sent it through the Chicago clearing house. Consequently, there were several days' delay before the check was presented at the Chebanse bank on the day that institution closed its doors.

Mrs. Comstock refused to pay the bank again, claiming that the bank was negligent in delaying presentation at Chebanse where she had ample funds on deposit to meet payment of the check. The local bank has been unable to secure payment from the defunct Chebanse bank and, if the court concurs in the opinion of the defendant, will be "out" $2,692. Mrs. Comstock is represented by the law firm of Hunter and Minor who also defended her in a $50,000 alienation of affections suit brought against her a year ago by Mrs. Gustie Dumontella. Mrs. Comstock, the owner of valuable property near Chebanse, resides at 995 South Wildwood avenue.

HUNDREDS VIEW WORK OF PUPILS

PATRONS' DAY AT STEUBEN SCHOOL ATTRACTS MANY
THERE YESTERDAY

FINE EXHIBITION

Maps, Designs Of A Varied Nature, Drawings, Penmanship, Figures

Hundreds of parents, relatives and friends of pupils of the Steuben school paid a visit yesterday afternoon and evening on the occasion of Patrons' Day and were amply rewarded by the exhibition presented for their edification.

It was a worth while event. The pupils were dismissed for the afternoon and their parents and friends invited to come and view the work done since the opening of the school in September.

That this work is a big credit not only to the young students, themselves but to the school's principal, Miss Jennie Clute and her most efficient corps of instructors, was evidenced by the words of praise voiced by those in attendance both afternoon and evening.

As visitors entered the building they were greeted by the principal and requested to register. Visitors then directed them to the various grades, where the work was exhibited on the walls and desks. In each of the grades the teacher was present to aid parents in finding exhibits or work of their sons and daughters or children of friends in whom they were interested.

It would be hard to describe in detail the exposition for the work was varied and from the lower to the highest grade was evidence of the painstaking efforts of the youngsters—maps, designs of varied nature, penmanship, drawing, figures, etc. all went to make up a most imposing array of splendid work.

BED SHEETS AID PATIENTS IN ESCAPING

Two colored inmates of the Kankakee State hospital escaped last night from Ward A-3 South by tying bed sheets together and sliding to freedom from the southeast dormitory of the three story structure. It was the second escape of two colored men within 27 hours from this ward which is considered one of the worst in the institution.

REDDICK HIGH SCHOOL WILL BE INSPECTED

DURING TOURS OF BETTER HOMES WEEK IN THIS COMMUNITY

MEETING AT ARMORY

Fine Program Has Been Planned
For Mass Meeting On Friday Evening

The program for Friday of Better Homes Week includes a conducted tour to the Reddick High School grounds. The attention is directed to the possibilities of elevating the standards of school grounds by organized groups. The Reddick Community High School grounds were landscaped six years ago by A. Lanthorn who was superintendent of the school at that time. All work of planting was done by the teachers and pupils of the school, therefore it is an excellent demonstration of what can be accomplished in improving public school grounds and other public properties at a very minimum expense. Those desiring to make this tour are asked to meet in the supervisors room on the first floor of the county court house at 1:30. The tour will be under the direction of Albert Aker.

The final arrangements have been completed for the mass meeting to be held in the Armory at eight o'clock on tomorrow evening, Friday, May 2. This meeting will begin at eight o'clock with a concert by the Kankakee Co. Soil and Crop band. The program will be featured by community singing and several short addresses. The address of the evening will be given by D. E. Lindstrom of the University of Illinois. The use of the Armory has been made possible through the courtesy of Captain A. D. Goudreau. The platform decorations will be arranged by the Kankakee Unit of the County Home Bureau. The program has been arranged with and supported this mass meeting by announcements from their pulpits and assisting in many other ways to make this mass meeting possible.

The speakers of the evening are: D. M. Raiche, Chairman; Mrs. R. L. Worrell, Kankakee Co. Home Bureau; Mrs. A. H. Uebachs, Kankakee Unit of Home Bureau; Elwood Brink, Builders' club; W. A. Speicher, Kiwanis Club; William Lockwood, Rotary Club; Miss Yolande Templeton, Business and Professional Woman's club; A. D. Fortier, West Side Progressive Ass'n; Ed Strasma, Chamber of Commerce.

The complete program for the evening is as follows:

YOUTHFUL BANDITS HOLD UP PARKWAY INN ON ROUTE 17

Two young men in a Buick coupe drove up to the Parkway Inn, located six miles west of this city on Highway 17, last evening, and held up the proprietor, Richard Levett, and his son at the point of revolvers. They escaped with $18 taken from the cash drawer.

Levett stated that the robbers appeared to be about 22 years of age. They entered the place and each purchased a bottle of pop. After drinking the beverage they flipped the counter and emptied the cash register.

The robbery occurred at 7:20 o'clock. The pair drove west with their loot. Sheriff Ed Hoennicke was called and notified state highway police to be on the lookout for the bandits.

Does A Secretary Love Her Job Or Her Boss?

How can a secretary be really efficient unless she's in love with her boss?
Dr. William M. Marston, America's foremost psychologist and author of several widely discussed books dealing with the psychology of the office, in his new novel, "The Office Wife," treats of the problem of a secretary in love with her employer in such a way that Dr. Marston feels his point is amply illustrated.

"The Office Wife" is an absorbing study of the relationship that too often exists between a pretty and efficient secretary and an executive whose business interests are too keen to be divorced from his emotional life.

Begin "The Office Wife" May 6 in the Daily Republican and join the army of men and women who are having the fiction treat of a lifetime!

TODAY 43RD ANNIVERSARY OF BIG FIRE

CITY'S GREATEST CONFLAGRATION OCCURRED ON MAY DAY, 1887

STORES WIPED OUT FULLY A DOZEN BUILDINGS AND TWO CHURCHES DESTROYED IN SUNDAY BLAZE

The most disastrous fire in the history of Kankakee occurred 43 years ago today—on May 1, 1887. On that date fire of unknown origin destroyed the greater part of the downtown business district.

The event was recalled today by Circuit Clerk Joseph Tolson who was at that time a member of the Kankakee State hospital fire department which assisted the city volunteers in fighting the flames. Mr. Tolson is believed to be the only member of the hospital fire department who is living today.

Mr. Tolson stated that the fire started in the Bon Ami skating rink on South West avenue near Merchant street. The building which also housed Bachant's implement shop. The blaze was discovered at 11 o'clock on a Sunday morning, spreading with great rapidity and fully a dozen important buildings were destroyed before night.

The fire spread north on West avenue and finally spanned West Court street setting afire the German Evangelical church. About half a dozen buildings in the block were burned and then the flames carried across the Illinois Central tracks to the Lutheran church on North East avenue which was also destroyed with several surrounding structures. The Salvation Army building was also demolished.

After the fire had practically burned itself out, a new conflagration broke out at 6 o'clock the same evening destroying the Mellanson livery barn in which several head of valuable horses were burned.

Mr. Tolson stated that the hospital's fire apparatus and equipment were loaded on an Illinois Central flat car and taken back to the institution after the all-day siege. The fire fighters were given supper that evening in the Commercial hotel as the guests of "Bob" Tapanelli.

Although Kankakee has experienced many large conflagrations since the event of 43 years ago, none approached in devastation the blaze of 1887.

ST. JOSEPH CLASS PLAY PRESENTED

"QUALITY STREET" PROVES TO BE AN ENTERTAINING
COMEDY

SPLENDID CAST

Story Of The Play And The Various Characters Taking Part

The senior class play of St. Joseph Seminary, "Quality Street," was presented last night at the convent auditorium before a large and appreciative audience.

This comedy of four acts by James Barrie which contains a certain charm and grace, gave the spectators a mingled feeling of surprise and pleasure at seeing the gentility of another day so cleverly depicted before the eyes of an audience representing this sophisticated world of ours. The different characters were very well taken by the entire cast, in fact, Quality Street seemed to be right outside the door due to the realistic impersonations. Miss Margaret Guertin as Phoebe Throssel, and Miss Lucille Turk as Captain Valentine Brown, the dashing soldier, took the leading roles and their impersonations had more the mark of veteran actresses than the amateur, Miss Lucille Bertrand, as Susan, Phoebe's sister, was very good in her depiction of an old maid of Napoleon's age with her staid traditions and lady-like customs. The remaining members of the cast were like foils who brought out the many qualities of Captain Brown, the sweetness and courage of Phoebe and the quaintness of Susan. The second act which contained a school room scene was very entertaining, made so by the "gentle children" and their "brave" schoolmistress.

The entire play was enacted in two scenes at intervals of ten years. The first act took place in the Blue and White room which was a true representation of a room to be found in an English lady's home. The second act was the same scene ten years later and the third was an ante-room to the ball-room which was very artistically arranged, with a good-natured moon shining in the background. The fourth act occurred in the Blue and White room. Much credit for the stage arrangement and lighting is due to D. D. Drolet. The costumes worn by the ladies with all the frills and laces of the Napoleonic era were beautiful as were the soldiers, resplendent in their uniform trimmed in gold braid.

The story concerned Phoebe Throssel who expected a proposal of marriage from Valentine Brown. However, Brown was enthusiastic about the Napoleonic war then waging and left to join the British army. Phoebe and her sister had entrusted their money to Brown's "shrew" mind for investment and the investments proved to be failures, of which Brown is unaware. The two sisters decided to conduct a little school in their home and Phoebe "put her ringside under a cap and proceeded to grow old over night." Ten years later Phoebe had succeeded in losing some of her girlishness and was made to feel ancient by Captain Brown's manner who returned from war. Phoebe decided to go to a ball as her supposed cousin, Miss Livvy in company with her sister Susan, accompanied by Brown who became infatuated with Miss Livvy. At the ball Miss Livvy was the favorite among the guests in attendance and quarreled with Captain Brown over her aunt, Miss Phoebe. Brown told Miss Livvy that Phoebe was the one he really loved and then made up his mind to tell her so. The sisters kept up the deception of their supposed cousin's visit until the village busybodies could not be quieted with excuses any longer.

They have told their friends that Miss Livvy was confined to her room on account of a headache, but they could not keep her there forever. To add to their discomfort Brown called on them unexpectedly and when the sisters had left the room he proceeded to make Miss Livvy a professional visit, as he was a doctor. He discovered the Misses Throssel's deception in regard to Miss Livvy and finally matters are brought to a satisfactory conclusion, including the acceptance of Miss Phoebe of Captain Brown.

The students and faculty of St. Joseph Seminary wish to thank all the firms and individuals who helped towards making this year's play one of the most successful ever presented at the convent.

YOUNG WOMEN ARE HURT AS AUTO UPSETS

Three young women, all of Chicago, very fortunately escaped serious injury when their automobile turned over on the Governor's Highway, just north of Tucker, about 10:00 o'clock this morning.

The three were rushed to St. Mary's hospital by a passing motorist, and it was found that their injuries were only minor cuts and bruises. The automobile, a nearly new Plymouth sedan, was almost demolished.

Just why the accident occurred is not exactly known, but the driver, Mrs. L. L. Janis, 1246 Pratt Boulevard, Chicago, remarked afterward that she would "never light a cigarette again while she was driving." She refused to divulge the names of her two companions, but stated that they were bound for Champaign to spend the week-end.

At the scene of the accident, the marks on the soft earth at the side of the highway show that the automobile, apparently at high speed, left the slab and sped along the shoulder for a short distance, left its wheels and turned over, then slid along on its side to the center of the highway.

ROTARY CLUB WILL INSPECT COUNTY FARM

DR. COHN CLAIMS THAT PRESENT STRUCTURE HAS BEEN OBSOLETE

PROTECT THE POOR

A. L. Taylor Stages Demonstration
Of Modern Telephone
Typewriters

By an unanimous vote, the Rotary club today decided to act upon the suggestion of Dr. Eugene Cohn and name a committee to investigate conditions at the Kankakee county poor farm and then contrast the institution with those of neighboring counties. The action was taken at the weekly luncheon of the club in the Gold Room of the Hotel Kankakee at noon today.

"Kankakee county does not love its poor," said Dr. Cohn. "Our poor farm was probably a fine structure when it was built many years ago, but it is now obsolete and dangerous. It has been pronounced so by experts. I am sure that the Rotary club will confer with the county authorities in an attempt to find some remedy for the situation and I personally will keep on trying in this matter till hell freezes over."

E. E. Anderson, who recently returned from a vacation on the Pacific coast, announced today that the Rotarians will be his guests next week at a salmon dinner. Mr. Anderson brought a 37-pound salmon back from the coast and the club will derive some entertainment by listening to an account of how this denizen of the torments was hooked, snared or speared by the guest.

The program today was in charge of A. L. Taylor, local manager of the Bell Telephone company. It comprised chiefly an interesting working demonstration of the modern "telephone typewriter" and its application to modern business. This system of communication is now used by vast industries, railroads, the Associated Press and the Chicago police department.

A discourse on the history and romance of communication from the time of smoke signals down to the present radio age was given by Paul Bauer, Chicago, representative of the telephone company.

FIRE PERILS REPORTED IN INSTITUTION

INQUIRIES MADE AS TO FLAME DANGERS IN STATE HOSPITAL

HAZARDS REPORTED

Fire Apparatus Has Not Been Inspected Since Gov. Small's Term

The sacrificing of more than 300 lives at the Ohio State penitentiary because of official orders and locked doors has caused numerous inquiries as to conditions existing at the Kankakee State Hospital under the management of the Emerson-Miller administration, where more than 3800 patients are confined.

The result of the inquiry shows negligence on the part of the officials and increased danger to the lives of patients and employees in case of fire.

It was learned that R. Gaines, an attendant has been appointed by the Emerson-Miller gang to take charge of Five-North, employees quarters, where more than eighty married couples and twenty laundry employees reside, and issued orders that the building be locked at 11:30 o'clock at night. This building is a two story and basement building with no fire escape, and according to reliable information, it is necessary to wake Mr. Gaines after 11:30 o'clock at night for the employees to enter. This requires, it is said, from five to ten minutes. It is pointed out that in case of fire the lives of all the employees, except those who would leap from the windows, would be in danger of death by cremation or suffocation.

In the locked wards on the north, where the women patients reside, and the south, where the men are confined, it is believed that the new and incompetent attendants would be unable to release them in time should fire break out in any of the buildings. No inspection of the fire apparatus in the building has been made since Governor Len Small left office, according to reliable sources, and Dr. George S. Edmondson has been repeatedly criticized for negligence in looking toward the safety of patients in case of fire.

The appointment of A. F. Marcotte, as chief engineer of the institution has been a boomerang to the Emerson administration, insofar, as he has not as yet acquainted himself with the watermain leading to the fire hydrants in the institution. Valves on certain hydrants within the institution were stuck, and in other cases there was not sufficient pressure for a garden hose, according to reliable reports emanating from the institution. It is said that should fire break out in some of the outlying wards it would be impossible to take the patients to safety promptly and the destruction of the building would be inevitable.

Shortly before Governor Len Small left office orders were issued for the fireproofing of buildings, but since that time work that was uncompleted has been neglected and locked wards where violent and runaway patients are confined are really firetraps according to those closely connected with the institution. It is believed by many, that relatives and friends of patients will ask that an inspection of the institution be made, similar to that conducted at the Illinois State penitentiary at Joliet. Employees already have voiced their disapproval of Dr. Edmondson's orders in their living quarters.

LAST MINUTE RUSH FOR TAX PAYMENTS

All taxpayers of Kankakee county who have not paid their 1929 tax assessments to date must pay an additional one per cent penalty from now on, according to County Treasurer L. B. Rogers who announced that the tax collection officially ended yesterday and the delinquent tax list is now being prepared for advertising.

Yesterday, the final day, was the record day for tax receipts at Mr. Rogers' office. Taxpayers paid in $172,857 at the tax office in the court house and another $20,864 was paid through banks in the outlying districts.

Mr. Rogers stated that considerably over a million dollars has been paid in since the tax collection started. The total assessment for last year amounted to about $1,600,000.

COP TURNS IN RIOT CALL AND THE 'FUN' BEGINS

Philadelphia, May 1.—(AP)—Director of Public Safety Samuel J. Braddock was arrested early today as the result of a controversy growing out of a battle on the campus of the University of Pennsylvania between police and students during which 300 students were arrested. They were released later. Braddock also was released in his own case after a hearing.

A riot broke out before the Board of Trustees of the university began the annual celebration of the burning of the "Gibson" at the institution. There were several versions as to what happened. Some students said the affair began after a policeman turned in a riot call. Others said he saw a crowd collecting.

Braddock, a junior, was arrested by a policeman, who was also arrested. Several students were thrown to the ground and the rioters were in a riot. Braddock was seen by a crowd of students.

Some of the boys began shouting "Gibson" and the police in the riot call and the riot.

SELF-STYLED ALCOHOL BARON FATALLY WOUNDED

Omaha, Neb., May 1.—(AP)—Gene Livingston, 34, a self-styled "alcohol baron" and leader of gamblers, was fatally wounded, and Bob Glasgow, head of the local bill posters' union, was shot in the hip and leg today while attending an early morning session in the apartment of Mrs. Margaret Mack.

Livingston died a half hour later in a hospital. Five inmates of the apartment were held for questioning. According to Mrs. Mack, Livingston came to the place in an intoxicated condition, and asked to remain for the night. She consented, she told police. As they walked into the kitchen, a volley of shots crashed through a window. Livingston slumped to the floor with three bullets in the abdomen. Mrs. Mack told police Glasgow was wounded when he returned the fire of the assassin.

In addition to Mrs. Mack and Glasgow, three placed under arrest were James Russell, John B. Higgs and John Kelly.

Livingston recently was acquitted of the charge of criminally libeling Sergeant Joe Palatch, deputy head of the police moria squad. Livingston charged Palatch accepted "protection money." Libel charges against Livingston were brought by county officials but were quashed when a jury returned a verdict of acquittal.

Livingston was the object of an apartment gang attack here Feb. 12, when several men rifled his automobile with bullets on a busy street. He escaped uninjured, deserted his car and hid in a passing motorist's car. He returned to his downtown office. For a time he refused to discuss the attempted shooting, but he later admitted the attack.

He had been an almost regular visitor in federal court. He was sued by the government for $20,000. Alleged to have been owed as taxes in connection with operation of a huge downtown still. Recently he received a jail sentence which he appealed. He was out on bond when the fatal shooting occurred.

BRITISH TO TAKE ACTION IN FAR EAST

London, May 1.—(AP)—British leaders today said they understood that the Indian administration working with the approval of the home government would take immediate steps to put down the civil disobedience campaign of Mahatma Gandhi and the all-India National Congress.

It was believed the papers said that Gandhi would be arrested. Some quarters it was recalled how Gandhi's arrest would be a blow to the movement. There is a widespread belief that the government is reluctant to grant the Satyagrah leader the martyrdom of arrest has strengthened his position.

Bombay dispatches said that Gandhi had another plan to harness the government which will be revealed on the banks of the river Tapi at Surat. The nature of the plan was mysterious, but a special messenger was understood to have taken Gandhi instructions for carrying it out.

Lack of important news from India has led to general suspicion that news is being withheld by the censor rather than that the situation is improving.

MAJESTIC—"Anna Christie." Garbo talks—and "How." The supporting cast includes Charles Bickler, George J. Martin, Marie Deaer, James T. Black and Lee Phelps.

It is stated that Miss Garbo entered upon her first starring role without the slightest hesitation despite considerable anxiety upon the part of both the producers and the public. The original production, which is said to be characterized by a slight Swedish accent. It is further stated that Miss Garbo's production was the little increased when Miss Garbo refused to take a "Vogue" test. That she must have been possessed with the utmost confidence in regard to her voice qualifications is indicated by the report that none of the producers or the public (who were all extremely nervous) broke all existing records in unbroken length of talking sequence. Her first scene running almost nine minutes and using nearly 100 feet of film, which is the capacity plan for camera magazines.

The story of "Anna Christie" revolves about the regeneration of a Swedish girl who, brought up without care of guidance, chose a sensational career to escape the tyranny of life on a Minnesota farm. Several months spent with her father on an island sea coast and the love of a Irish sailor inspire her to a fresh start on life.

The picture which was adapted by Francis Marion from Eugene O'Neill celebrated play was directed by Clarence Brown, responsible for the production of two of Miss Garbo's past successes, "Flesh and The Devil" and "A Woman of Affairs." The supporting cast includes Charles Bickler, George J. Martin, Marie Deaer, James T. Black and Lee Phelps.

PAID HIS BILL THEN ROBBED HIM

Chicago, May 1.—(AP)—After five years, a robber last night finally finished what he started—the theft of two fur coats from Joseph Gottlieb.

The robbery began in 1933 when a man posing as a customer checked two garments priced at $500 and made a $200 deposit. He promised to return in a few days with the balance.

The few days stretched into years. Last night the customer returned with a companion and said he was ready to pay the amount due. Gottlieb told him that in the long interim, the value of the coats had increased, and that $500 was necessary to finish payment. The man paid it and left the store, promising to return soon.

He did, with a man in a policeman's uniform. The latter walked directly to Gottlieb and struck him down with night stick. When Gottlieb regained consciousness, the furs were gone, and also the $500 the man had paid.

CHICAGO BRIDEWELL CLASSES AS FIRETRAP

Chicago, May 1.—(AP)—With prevention of a disaster such as the Columbus prison fire, as its avowed purpose, a city "board" committee today opened an investigation of conditions in the Bridewell, the city's house of correction in which 2,000 prisoners are confined.

Characterized by several aldermen as a firetrap, part of the prison was built in 1871 of wood, and has already been condemned by the fire prevention bureau. Two days ago, a blaze in the carpenter shop detached from the prison, caused momentary unrest among the inmates.

To relieve congestion in the Bridewell, a proposal was made to the council to credit prisoners serving out fines with $2 a day instead of the present 50 cent rate.

EUROPA PASSENGER IS LOST OVERBOARD
Cherbourg, France, May 1.—(AP)—Officers of the liner Europa arriving here today said Wilhelm Karig, of Cleveland, Ohio, a passenger, was lost overboard and drowned during the trip from New York. The body was recovered later. Karig, who was of Hungarian origin, was the father of three children. He had a friend he recently had lost large sums of money.

Fuga exported from this country last year were valued at nearly $1,000,000.

"HEAVY DUTY"

but not how fine it looks!

When Goodyear puts the words "Heavy Duty" on the side-wall of a tire, everybody knows those words mean extra strength, extra service, extra wear.

But in its new Heavy Duty balloon, Goodyear now puts something more—an outward beauty quite as superior as its inner excellence.

This great new tire is ruggedly handsome, massively proportioned, and around either side-wall below its extra-thick and extra-safe All-Weather Tread runs a single identifying stripe of silver.

A striking feature is the way in which the outer rows of All-Weather blocks are prisms down into the side-walls, as fresh and unbackneyed a modeling as distinguishes modern sculpture.

Goodyear builds this new Heavy Duty balloon tire for those who want to drive fast and far without worry, and are willing to pay a little extra for that privilege.

If you want to dress up your car and soothe down your anxieties, go see the nearest Goodyear Dealer, and have him change over your tires to new Goodyear Heavy Duty balloons today!

Goodyear can give you greater tire values because Goodyear builds more than 1/4 of all the tires sold in America, the remainder being divided among some forty manufacturers. "More people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind."

WHY WE DO IT

Why We Believe

By Herbert K. Thompson, Ph.D.
Author of "The Springs of Human Action"

We believe because we want to believe. It is very easy for a mother to think the best concerning her boy. She believes him innocent when all the world is certain that he is guilty of some serious crime. The ease with which we believe is so thoroughly ingrained in our accounts for so much prejudice in the world. If we have a poor opinion of John Doe we are ready to believe his unbecoming conduct concerning his moral conduct just as the mother and lover refuse to believe anything evil of their beloved. To accuse belief in a new fact as the mother and lover refuse to believe anything evil of their beloved. To accuse belief in a new fact as the mother and lover refuse to believe anything evil of their beloved.

OVERWORLD

COMMUNISTS IN VARIOUS PARTS OF THE WORLD ASSEMBLE DEMONSTRATIONS

Disorder Reported But Not Of Serious Character; Precautions

By The Associated Press

Communist the world over head off the crowds and took care to keep the peace. In many places today, using the occasion to show growth and strength of their movement, and as a protest against particular, a despite, untemperamental conditions.

In most of the countries of the world the Communist Party took the military, took precautionary measures intended to keep the demonstrations within bounds and to prevent disorders.

In some countries such as France, Germany and Italy, such measures were extreme and involved intensive mobilization of the constabulary, arrests of agitators, and direct repression.

In other countries notable Great Britain and Italy, the authorities considered the occasion as not much out of the ordinary. This was particularly the case in Italy, where the fascist party has stifled political opposition. Spanish America celebrated the day as a holiday, and an occasion for merry making.

Moscow, the cradle of the Proletariat movement, planned a celebration on a huge scale. The thousands were released from their employment. Wednesday at 3 p. m. to make the demonstration.

Thousands of workers and soviet soldiers and speech making were scheduled. The parade was held in the city square in a May day riot, near the demonstrations, one in Paris and two in the suburbs were quickly suppressed by the police.

Altogether about one fifth of the 600,000 workers in the main industries observed a May day strike, but the down town part of Paris was almost normal in appearance except for the complete absence of taxicabs.

The police arrested 223 persons of whom 135 were foreigners, on various grounds including the possession of concealed weapons, the distribution of communist circulars and agitation.

Berlin—Police Assigned Musicians—Police opposed the old imperial parade to the communist May day morning meeting and to the socialist party for an afternoon meeting.

London—The police, along with police and national guard forces, kept the streets clear of the demonstrators.

Venice—Ordinary demonstrations were permitted but closely watched by police. In Hungary demonstrations were prohibited.

St. Louis—Strong police reserves were called upon to prevent trouble between communists and socialists who were to meet in different parts of the city.

Prague—Despite the festive air of the parades police were on guard against disorders. Demonstrations passed through the central thoroughfares with bands playing and flags flying.

Madrid—Communists and anti-monarchical elements promised a tremendous demonstration. The police were on guard.

Silver Springs, Maryland, May 1.—Mother Jones, lifelong fighter in the cause of labor, is celebrating her one-hundredth birthday. She has reached the century mark by celebrating it with the turbulent life she has lived. At the country home of Mrs. and Mr. Charles Jones, a telephone call cannot reach her, and a faint, white-haired old lady now in the arms of her son, is planning to end her last year, and her long life, there.

Many cables and telegrams have been pouring in on her for days from all parts of the country. Word of Mother Jones' birthday has gone out all over the world. In San Francisco to New York, Hard-fisted men who listened to her fierce words of protest, and who once represented cheering words and congratulations to the fact, but tense and angry fighting still goes on.

Though the years have robbed Mother Jones of her strength, she would maintain its violence and capital would eliminate it. In the battle would be practically over.

TROOPS TO GUARD OHIO PRISON FOR NEXT TWO WEEKS

Columbus, O., May 1.—Troops will be kept on guard duty at Ohio penitentiary for at least two weeks, it was indicated today as prison officials survey the damage done by revolting convicts in the White City idle house, scene of numerous disorders since last week's fire disaster. Thirty days will be required to repair the locks and doors broken by the mutineers, according to Colonel Robert Haurich, commander of Ohio national guard, who put down the mutiny after two convicts were wounded one seriously, when prison guards fired on them last Wednesday.

Although Col. Haurich was unable to say when it would be possible to withdraw the soldiers, he intimates the under-current of unrest among the prisoners would require extreme caution for fourteen days or longer. While the work of repairing the idle house is going on, the unruly prisoners will be kept in temporary quarters. Approximately 600 have been transferred to a barred wire stockade in the prison recreation grounds, while the remainder, numbering about 700, have been either placed in a warehouse recently converted into a dormitory or taken to other state prisons.

After the idle house had been emptied last night, guard officers found the beginning of a hole leading toward the resident of Warden Preston E. Thomas, whose removal of the convicts demanded after the death of 320 men in the fire. The hole, together with a half foot crevice, was in the basement. The diggers had cut through six inches of concrete.

Despite comparative tranquility that 400 soldiers remained inside the walls today and 200 patrolled the outside. The wreckage was guarded by 150 guardsmen.

It was indicated today as prison officials survey the damage done by revolting convicts in the White City idle house, scene of numerous disorders since last week's fire disaster. Thirty days will be required to repair the locks and doors broken by the mutineers, according to Colonel Robert Haurich, commander of Ohio national guard, who put down the mutiny after two convicts were wounded one seriously, when prison guards fired on them last Wednesday.

All of Barbara's friends are glad that she has gone through that trying ordeal so nicely that she was able to attend school so soon after the operation.

R. J. Roberts and the majority of the high school boys are planning to attend a track meet at Onarga Friday afternoon.

Bessie Hathaway of the primary school was the first to receive her of the pain caused by several complete convulsions. She was accompanied by her mother.

The outstanding event in the school was the final examinations held Friday, May 14, the play, "Paying the Piper" that will be presented at the Martin Community hall, Wednesday, May 14, and the track meet here Friday afternoon, May 9 in which Crescent City, Woodland and the other teams will compete. The grade boys will enter a track meet at Woodland, Saturday, May 11.

A contest in the making of posters for the play "Paying the Piper" was held in the intermediate room where Miss Matilda Bruttig is teacher. Bethel Roach won the first prize and Leo Edson the second among the sixth grade pupils. In the fourth and fifth grades the prizes were awarded to Raymond and Langer and James Pilote.

The "Deerslayer" was the motion picture shown at the school here Monday night. This was the last show of this school year and the attendance was good. The entertainment was given by a piano selection played by Eileen Trieschel of the Grammar Room. The Junior Basketball team then marched into the room led by their captain Glen Wehling and the trophy that they won some time ago was formally presented by Fred Schroeder, clerk of the Board of school directors. This was Mr. Schroeder's first visit to the school since he was injured in an accident a month or more ago. As he was a frequent visitor there his visits have been greatly missed.

Friends of Lyman Keith, a former pupil of the Old Burg school but now of the Liberty Loan school near Crescent City will be sorry to know that he has been badly stuck at his home near that place for the past week.

Mrs. Dorothy Wehling of this place and high school student at Donovan went to Gilman Saturday where she took the test in short hand and typing. Dorothy's mother and her guests called on her mother her grade work here but as there is no business course taught in the high school here she enrolled in the Donovan school last fall. Other former pupils of the Martin school attending the school at Donovan are Mildred Cupp, Herbert Tyler and Isadore Stucky where they are completing the high school course as the fourth year's work is not taught in the Martin school.

Royal Neighbors.

A very pleasant as well as instructive meeting was held by the local Royal Neighbor camp in their camp room in the I. O. O. F. hall here on Wednesday evening of last week. The orator, Mrs. Edna LeSage presided over the meeting in a most efficient way and was assisted by her staff of equally efficient officers. The camp had the pleasure of having as visitors the district deputy, Miss Alice Yates of Decatur and Mrs. Verne Albright, orator, Mrs. Mettie Fany recorder and Mrs. Lottie Goodman drill captain of the Watseka camp and Mrs. Violet Bear and Mrs. Bess Landman of Martin but members of the Golden Rod camp at Papineau. A delightful social time was enjoyed at the conclusion of the meeting and delicious refreshments were served by the entertainment committee with Mrs. Cora Calkins as chairman. Miss Yates is to return to Martin some time in the near future to assist in a membership drive.

Accidental Death.

This community was shocked and deeply grieved when word was received here Friday afternoon that Edward Keith, a former resident of community had died at the Iroquois hospital in Watseka a short time after he had been brought there from Woodland where he had received the fatal injuries. Mr. Keith had hauled a load of grain to the elevator at that place and while waiting for that party to dump a load of grain he slipped from the elevator and when he started to drive into the elevator the team of young mules shied and although he endeavored to turn them back he was caught between the wagon wheel and a projection in the wall of the drive way and the side on his left side were crushed and one of his legs injured. The team was stopped after it had dragged him some distance. The injured man was carried into the grain office where it was apparent to both Mr. Keith and those present that the injuries were fatal. His family and other near relatives were notified and an ambulance from Watseka was called and he was taken to the Iroquois hospital where he passed away in about twenty minutes after arriving there and several hours after the accident occurred.

Edward Keith, son of Durlah and Nancy Keith was born in Ash Grove township on July 19, 1883 and died in Watseka on April 25, 1929. He spent his entire lifetime in Iroquois county and the greater part of it was in the vicinity of Woodland. He had been a resident in the vicinity of Martin for seven years prior to moving to his present home several miles west of Woodland a year ago. He was united in marriage to Miss Virginia Kelly on March 14, 1888 and she with their eight children are left to mourn the loss of their efficient husband and father. One daughter, Mrs. Ava Cady had preceded him in death about five years ago. Those left to be a comfort to their mother in her bereavement are Addison of Ashkum, Mrs. Edna Cady of Earl Park, Ind., Roy of Watseka, Lawrence of Chicago and Kenneth, Allen, Helen and Doris at home. One daughter-in-law, Mrs. Roy Keith and two sons-in-law, Harry and Orel Cady, also mourn the loss of one, who they regarded as a father. The deceased is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Edna Keith of Watseka and two brothers, Jos. Keith of Cahoon, Okla. and Aaron Keith of Hopston, Iowa.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock in the club room of the Y. M. C. A. and was well attended. The program was unique and different from other programs of the club in that it had no principal speaker. The program was made up entirely of special numbers. The banquet opened as do all of the regular with the sentence prayer and a short devotional period.

Each fellow present introduced his mother or his mother-in-law. The evening, President Lloyd Chapman then gave the address of welcome to the mothers. "All that I am or ever hope to be I owe to my dear mother," he said. "She is the Lincoln was the subject of his welcome speech. He thanked the mothers for their cooperation in making the club what it is.

Mrs. Ruth answered for the mothers and said that she was very glad to be present at such a gathering and was pleased with the work that the club was doing, and especially that the mothers were doing. "I only costs fifty cents but it's worth $50 because it is sure," adv.

The Office Wife

By FAITH BALDWIN

The position of private secretary to a man of breadth, significance and power in his particular line of business is almost a twenty-four hour job. A man is compelled toward the woman he makes by emotion, and a biological need, but he selects his secretary with more care and more intelligence. Also he may change secretaries with more rapidity than he may change wives, and more ease. He demands of the woman in his private office not only alertness, efficiency and the clairvoyant quality of being able to carry out even the orders he does not give, but also a certain amount of charm, of personal attraction. He agrees with her an intimate knowledge of himself that not even his closest friend may possess. His life is more or less open to her, she knows his faults and his hesitations, his fears and psychological twists, as his wife can never know them. Also she sees the determining weighing and in-action side of him which, if brought into play at home, is used only in the domestic urgencies and is thereby tempered with emotion of one sort or another.

Because the private secretary comes so close to her employer she has set herself a new standard of men. Hundreds of women who may not be at all emotionally involved with the men to whom they give their working hours, find, nevertheless, that their personal lives are colored and complicated by their association with these men. They are no longer content, as were their grandmothers, to sit waiting for some man to come along and, in return for certain approved services, support them for life. Nor are they content, as were their mothers, to choose an "eligible" man, one with spirit and the will to advance, and by their smoothing of his domestic path, and their intelligent interest, aid him toward that advancement, often "making him" as the phrase runs, yet without taking any of the credit themselves or pointing it out to him.

These women of today have gone a step further than their maternal ancestors. Unconsciously, yet aware of their own ability to get ahead of their own ambitions, they measure the men they meet by the yardstick of the man who has already arrived. They demand tangible success and proved power. And the unfortunate part is that men who are already successful and powerful are generally men who have married in their youth—and married either the parasite woman or some young eager thing anxious to see her man get ahead and putting her shoulder to the domestic wheel with that purpose in mind.

Therefore the young business woman of today is a misfit, and is often discontented with her personal experiences. Therefore she often falls in love, whether consciously or not, with her employer. Therefore she becomes the office wife. And if she has standards of comparison, so, by the same token, has the business man. How many business men with fully that their homes could be run as well as their offices and their wives comprehend their needs as swiftly and silently as their secretaries?

This business of the office wife is distinctly a modern problem. It will continue to be so until girls, working among men, cut the cloth to the coast and decide to do as their mothers have done—love and marry the men who are, like themselves, on the lower rungs of the ladder; it will continue to be so until the human equation no longer enters into business mathematics, and until there is utter cleavage between office and home, both for the man who occupies that office and the girl who works in it with him.

There are a great many men who never give their secretaries a personal thought; there are a great many girls who close their desks with sighs of relief and go out to find pleasure and amusement with gay hearted young men of their own sort, and their own class. But these are the exception which prove the rule. The girl whose standards are set by her employer, who has ambition beyond quitting time, a cookstove and a suburban cottage with the rent paid by a masculine office worker, has come to stay. And that girl is, for good or evil, "the office wife."
